A world of change. A world of opportunities.

Before starting the program

Intensive Spanish Course

Worried about living in Madrid without speaking the language? Then you should enroll in the optional Intensive Spanish Course, referred to as the Survival Spanish Course, offered by the Student Office. This course, held on campus in Madrid, starts roughly six weeks prior the intake's start date (October/March) and is designed for students with basic or limited knowledge of Spanish. It will allow international students to build up the basic vocabulary needed to settle in. This is also a great opportunity to network with students enrolled in other full-time programs and build your connections from day 1.

This 40-hour course is spread over 4 weeks. This "light schedule" allows you to participate in other extracurricular activities on campus, settle-in smoothly and take advantage of exploring Madrid, it's beautiful surroundings and other regions of Spain. The start date of the intensive Spanish Course will be confirmed closer to each intake.

Partners can also attend the course; however, they will need to pay a small fee whereas students receive the course free of charge. We also offer a Spanish language course online for those that won't arrive to Madrid until closer to the start date.

Pre-Program

As many of our students do not come from a business background or have completed their studies some time ago, we offer the opportunity to learn or refresh their analytical and quantitative concepts critical to the International MBA program.

You may either complete the pre-program online, at your convenience, or attend the classes offered on campus, in Madrid, prior to the start of the International MBA program. On-campus classes start around 2 weeks prior to the intake's starting date (November/April). All students without a financial or mathematical background are expected to complete the pre-program, choosing the format that best suits them. Please remember that spaces in the on-campus classes are limited, so join as soon as possible!
